PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR SECURITY GUARD SERVICES JOINS TWITTER, FACEBOOK

COLUMBUS – Private Investigator Security Guard Services, a component of the Ohio Department of Public Safety, has joined Twitter and Facebook in an effort to better engage and educate stakeholders and the media on the services PISGS provides the State of Ohio.

PISGS licenses and regulates companies that provide investigation or security services and promotes public safety by verifying companies are insured and operated by people with appropriate experience and training.

There are nearly 21,000 registered security guards and private investigators and more than 800 licensed companies in Ohio. They provide security everywhere – malls, entertainment venues, schools, government buildings and critical infrastructure, among many others.

Learn more about PISGS by liking them on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/OhioPISGS> or following them on Twitter @Ohio_PISGS.
